Doctor of Philosophy Program Study Guide
(For Foreign Students' Entering in academic year 112)

A. General rules

- a. This guide is written following the “Yuan Ze University Regulations for the Master’s and Doctoral Degree Qualifying Examination.”
- b. The College of Management Doctor of Philosophy program (hereinafter Ph.D. program) consists of an academic group, and an industry group.

B. Number of study years and school regulations for credits

- a. The study length in years for a doctoral program is 2-7 years.
- b. School regulation for credits and compulsory/ elective courses are:
  - 1. Students in a Ph.D. program need to complete a minimum of 18 credits and a doctoral dissertation.
  - 2. The Ph.D. program courses are:
    - i. Basic Compulsory Courses (3 credits): Research Methodology for Social Sciences
    - ii. Other Compulsory Courses (6 credits): Strategic Theories and Management, Behavioral Science Theories and Management, and Financial Accounting Theory. Choose 2 from 3
    - iii. Other Elective Courses: Refer to the list of required courses provided by the Doctor of Philosophy program. The management related area which is not on the list require the Course Sign Up Form that is approved by the dissertation advisor or instructor and sent to the Affair Council for a final decision.
  - 3. Students must take the Seminar in Management course within the first two years after starting the Ph.D. study. This course is zero credit. In addition, students should give an academic speech at least once in the Special Topics venue or Seminar before they do their doctoral oral defense.
  - 4. Within three years after choosing their advisor, students should take the “Independent Study” course offered by the Ph.D. program.

C. Examination

Ph.D. students must submit the "Notification of Learning Process" (including Qualifying Examination/ Dissertation Proposal, Attachment 1) with the required certain period of time and pass the examinations listed below:

Description	Qualifying Examination
Time Table	subjects

Held at least once a semester (a week before the start date of the semester)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Research Methodology for Social Sciences</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Strategic Theories and Management</li> <li>• Behavioral Science Theories and Management</li> <li>• Financial Accounting Theory</li> </ul> (Choose 1 from 3)
Remarks	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The qualifying examination and any re-examination must be passed within three years (6 semesters). Those who finally fail to pass must drop out from the school.</li> <li>2. After passing the qualifying examination courses (70 points or above), students may apply for their Qualifying Examination. The grade of each subject is calculated independently, and a passing grade is 70 points or more (including 70 points).</li> <li>3. Students who fail the qualifying examination for the first time, can retake the exam only once, regardless of the subject of the qualifying examination. Those who fail to pass the re-examination must drop out from the school.</li> <li>4. The qualification examination acceptance may not be revoked after the application is filed. Students who need to withdraw from other qualifying examination due to unavoidable circumstance should apply a week before the examination date. Student who cannot meet this requirement due to a major incident can submit the re-examination application one week later, and the failure record may be canceled after a committee meeting. But still, student can apply only one time.</li> <li>5. Student who published in a top international journal are qualified to have the qualifying examination waived, as follows :           <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1)The journal paper should be SSCI, SCI, or TSSCI.</li> <li>(2)The journal paper should be published after enrolling in a Ph.D. program at Yuan Ze University, and published under the name of Yuan Ze University with one specially appointed professor as a co-author.</li> <li>(3)The journal paper can only be applied by one Ph.D. student, and the paper will not be counted as any research points for graduation.</li> <li>(4)Students should prepare the application form, “Application for Ph.D. Qualifying Examination Waive” as Attachment 11, a journal accepted letter (publisher of paper will not have to submit). Send an abstract of the paper and a referral from the journal to Department/School office.</li> <li>(5) The qualifying examination must be completed within three years of enrollment.</li> </ol> </li> </ol>

D. Dissertation Process

a. Dissertation Advisor

Ph.D. students need to pass the qualifying examination before applying for their dissertation advisor (Application for Dissertation Advisor form, Attachment 2). Students may apply for one advisor or more for providing instruction together, and one should be a participating faculty member in the group for the student’s majoring. Students must acquire consent of the coordinator of the major group, if the advisor is not a faculty member in the students' major group, or the co-advisor is not a faculty member of the College of Management, YZU. Before finalization of any advisor issue, the Ph.D. program will indicate one participating faculty member as the mentor for advising that student's on his or her studies. Doctoral candidates will decide their topic and then start to draft their dissertation under the instruction of that advisor.

b. Change of Advisor

A semester should be the interval between the time when applying for change in dissertation advisor and the time for applying for acceptance of the second dissertation advisor. Apply for a change in dissertation advisor will not be allowed in the same semester as the application for acceptance. Students need to fill out the form "Application for Changing Dissertation Advisor" as Attachment 3 and provide agreements from both the previous and the current advisors as necessary documents to the Ph.D. program committee meetings. Changing a dissertation advisor in the same semester as a student is applying for the dissertation proposal defense and the dissertation oral defense is not allow. There is a limitation of changing one's advisor. It is only allowed one time during the entire Ph.D. study period. The grade on a dissertation oral defense will not be recognized if that student did not follow the proper procedure for changing a dissertation advisor.

c. Termination of Advisor Relationship

If it becomes necessary to terminate the advisor relationship, either the advisor or the student may initiate the application in accordance with the established regulations, and it must be approved through a Ph.D. program committee meetings. Once approved, the student must reapply for a new advisor.

d. Dissertation Committee

Students may apply for their dissertation oral defense and constitute their dissertation committee after the 5th semester in the program. The dissertation committee is in charge of reviewing the dissertation oral defense. After consent from the dissertation advisor and Ph.D. program director of the committee members, five to nine scholars in related fields will constitute the committee. More than 50% of the committee members will be professors or associate professors, and more than 50% of the committee members will be faculty from universities other than YZU. Except for the dissertation committee, there should be one faculty member from the candidate's major group on the committee, and chairperson to be nominated by the committee to coordinate all issues. The form "List of Dissertation Committee Members" as Attachment 4 is a document used to keep a record of committee members for the program. Any change in that list needs to be updated as soon as the change is validated. Students should exclude any three degrees of kinships or stakeholders from being their dissertation advisors or committee members; otherwise, these qualification shall be revoked and their oral defense grades shall not be recognized by the program. If the program confers a degree to a student who is found to have done so, the program shall revoke the degree and issue a public notice to announce the invalidation of the previously issued degree.

e. Defense of Dissertation Proposal

Each application documents need to be approved by dissertation advisors and the coordinator for the student's major group and an approval for referencing in the Ph.D. Program Committee meeting. The application documents include the following:

- Notification of Learning Process (as Attachment 1)
- List of Dissertation Committee Members (as Attachment 4)
- Transcript (grades) of Ph.D. program
- Checklist for Applying for Dissertation Proposal Defense (as Attachment 7)

A Dissertation Proposal Defense will be attended by the Dissertation Committee members at the school. These committee members will work out an average score. The passing score is 70 out of 100. The Dissertation Proposal Defense and the Dissertation Oral Defense should not be in the same semester. If students want to suspend their efforts after the Dissertation Proposal Defense, these students need to apply for conducting the Dissertation Proposal Defense again after returning to school. Seventh year students who fail to pass the Dissertation Proposal Defense before the last semester will have to drop out of school.

f. Publication of Articles

Ph.D. students must meet the articles published requirements noted below prior to obtaining their Ph.D. degree:

1. Students must co-author articles with dissertation advisors and must state Yuan Ze University as the research institution in the articles and the article needs to be published while they are attending school.
2. Students need to achieve a minimum of 6 points in order to meet the articles published requirement. Except for those in their last year (the 7th year), the number of publication points for graduation research results will only be counted as the number of journal papers.
3. All research categories for the published articles should be relevant to the management professional field and each article needs to be audited and gain the approval from dissertation advisor before submitting it for publication. The list of other anonymous peer review journals (and the points students can have), average-class international conferences and domestic conference should be reviewed by the coordinator of each group in advance and approved in the Ph.D. program committee meeting (Attachment 9).

6. Students should publish papers along with oral presentations at conferences, and should present in English at international conferences. Only the presenter's paper can be counted as a point-publication. If any other Ph.D. student/s co-write the paper with you, you need to fill in the “Quitclaim of Co-authored Dissertation” as Attachment 10 listing all co-authors and including their signatures on it.

7. Similar content articles published at different conferences can only be counted as higher point after by reviewed at program committee meetings.
8. Definition of "one periodical article":
  - (1) Articles with one to four authors (at least one must be an Assistant Professor or above in the College of Management, YZU) can be counted as one publication.
  - (2) Articles with five to seven authors (at least three must be Assistant Professor or above; two must be an Assistant Professor or above in the College of Management, YZU), but can be counted as one-half a publication only.
  - (3) Articles with eight authors or above cannot be considered as pointed-publications.
  - (4) Articles with two students or above as authors will be counted as average points.

f. Oral Defense of Dissertation

Students should follow the procedures for the dissertation oral defense application along with the school calendar. These application documents including:

- Draft of dissertation
- Dissertation Recognition from Advisor (as Attachment 5)
- Checklist for Applying for Dissertation Oral Defense (as Attachment 8)

The committee members will work out an average score. The passing score is 70 out of 100. Students who fail on the oral defense may apply for another oral defense in the next semester, but with the limitation of one only second change.

Students who have already applied for their dissertation oral defense but cannot execute the defense, should submit a "Notification of Withdrawal of Application for Examination" (as Attachment 6) to withdraw before the deadline for the dissertation oral defense. This withdrawal of oral defense can only be applied for once. Students who do not submit the “Notification of Withdrawal of Application for Examination” form and do not execute their defense will be considered as failing the oral defense.

Students can appeal to the Ph.D. program when they reach the final year of Ph.D. study period and are qualified to apply for their oral defense but still cannot get the approval to execute that oral defense from their dissertation advisors.

In the event that the program confers a degree to a student who is found upon investigation to have committed plagiarism or used fraudulent means when preparing the dissertation, the program shall revoke said degree and issue a public notice to announce the invalidation of any previously issued degree.

g. Graduation Schedules

If any of the items in the following table are not completed within the specified time, the students will have to drop out from school.

Subject	Schedule
Qualifying examination or re-examination	Pass within in three years.
Elective course: Independent Study	Within three years after choosing their advisor.
Dissertation Proposal Defense	Need to pass one semester before the last semester ( on 13 rd semester ).
